JOCKEY J. HOWARD IS RULED OFF ON THE GROUND OF FRAUD.

Suspension Meted Out to Trainer F. E. Baird and Horses He Has Been Training-Further Entry of Other Horses Ordered Refused.

El Paso, Tex., December 25.—With fine weather and a fair card, the largest Sunday crowd since the opening of the Juarez meeting was in attendance yesterday. Fayorites fared badly, not one catching the judge's eye. The one mile and a quarater race, the second at that distance to be an this season, was won by Sugar Lump at the generous odds of fifteen to one. Sugar Lump incidentally reduced the track record for the distance to 2:073. Miami, from the stable of G. H. Keene, captured the last race on the card heavily backed by Mr. Keene and a few friends from fifteen to six, by gradually wearing the leader down and winning in a drive.

Presiding Steward Charles F. Price and his associates handed out a ruling yesterday that on account of the reversal of form in the horse Rey Hindoo, which won the fourth race here last Friday from Thistic Belle, Delaney and John Griffin II, further entry of that horse be refused pending investigation. They also suspended trainer F. E. Baird and the horses Americus, Maizie Girl and General Marchmont. It is the intention of the stewards to restore Rey Hindoo to good standing as soon as George Snyder, the new owner of the horse, obtains another trainer.

They also announced that jockey J. Howard habeen ruled off the Jockey Club Juarez track on the as George Snyder, the new owner of the horse, obtains another trainer.

They also announced that jockey J. Howard had been ruled off the Jockey Club Juarez track on the ground of fraud. It is well known that Presiding Steward Price does not resort to such drastic measures of ruling anyone off the turf unless he has positive evidences of fraud.

Further entry of the horses Pride of Lismore and Goldinn will be refused because their owners were unable to give the stewards satisfactory reasons for scratching out of the race won by Rey Hindoo.

Presiding Steward Price handed down more rulings today. Jockeys A. Wrispen and A. Walsh were both warned away from the track for attempted fraud. Judge Price also announced that he had reinstated the horses Rey Hindoo and Americus today. Mr. Snyder having secured the scrvices of John Lowe to train them in the future.

T. H. Stevens arrived here yesterday on his way to Leington. Ky., where he is going to pick up twelve head of yearlings that he will transfer to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. He has purchased two acres adjoining the Idaho track and has erected a cottage and stables.

a railroad accident and in which a verdict of $15,000 was obtained.

A cold, raw day greeted the large crowd that gathered this afternoon to witness the third running of the Navidad Handicap. Irish Gentleman won the race from a good band of handicap horses that were dispatched to a perfect break. Follie Levy shot to the front with the rise of the barrier, closely followed by Harrigan. She shook him off on the far turn, opened a big gap, and looked all over the likely winner in the stretch. Then Irish Gentleman started to move up rapidly. Hoffman drew his whip and the colt, wearing the leader down, won in a drive. Round the World, the top weight of the race, ran in a good position in the carly stages and finished fast in the last eighth. Mendow, the favorite, and the idol of the racing people down here, was unfortunate enough to be kicked in the stifle at the post by Arasee. No doubt this millitated against her chances of drawing down the prize. Jockeys Keogh and Rosen were suspended for five days by the starter.

RECIPROCITY IN BREEDING FAVORS.

An arrangement made a few years ago by the principal breeders of thoroughbreds in France has worked so satisfactorily that it is continued each year. Each owner of a thoroughbred stallion gives a free service to his colleagues, the right of choice being determined by a form of ballot. The list of stallions "pooled" for next season in this manner has just been published, and to equalize matters, horses of second and third class will serve two, three or even four mares against the single service of a first-class stallion. For instance, M. Edmond Blane offers one nomination to Ajax, while the Count de Chenelette gives two to Gingal, M. A. Wallet gives from the toleting a son of Flying Fox. Crown Equerry and the American stallion Elismere are also on the four-mare mark, whereas the "top-sawyers" called upon for one service only are, in addition to Ajax, Batt, Ben, Brio, Briscoeur, Cheri, Chulo, Delaunay, Doricles, Exema, Go-to-Bed, Jacob, Kiglass, L'Aiglon, Lorlot, Madcap, Magellan, Or du Rhin, Ob, St. Just, Strozzi, Winkfield's Pride and Yankee. Altogether there will be one hundred nominations to ballot for and every leading breeder is in the syndicate, so that each will obtain at least one free service for a selected mare. The system certainly seems an economical one and it opens up many possibilities. An arrangement made a few years ago by the principal breeders of thoroughbreds in France has

CHARLESTON TRACK NEARING COMPLETION

Columbia, S. C., December 25.—W. C. Westmore-land was a visitor here this afternoon. He came from Charleston and brought the news that a great force of men were at work on the track now under course of construction in that city. There are already 350 horses on the ground and 650 stalls have been completed. By Saturday next two hundred more will be added to this number. There yet remains about 200 yards of filling to be completed, or about 11,000 yards of dirt to be moved. With the force of men now at work, the engineer in charge figures on moving about 1,100 yards daily, which means that the plant should be in readiness for the opening day. January 10. Francis J. Pons sent word over that but for unforeseen happenings the track will be ready on that date. Much interest is being taken here in the meeting at Charleston and a majority of the stables will ship there next week.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

E. H. (Snapper) Garrison recently visited Charleston to arrange for quarters for his family during the winter season of racing at that point, beginning January 10.

In Germany the state exacts a commission of 16 per-cent, on pari-mutuels, but the volume of the betting is steadily increasing. One half of the commission goes into a special fund for the encouragement of horse breeding.

GENERAL WOOD'S REPORT AN INCENTIVE TO ACTION

Friends of the Thoroughbred Will Make a Determined Effort to Obtain Modification of New York's Stringent Anti-Racing Laws

New York, December 25.—Commenting on the action of Major-General Wood, chief of staff of the United States Army, in calling the attention of Congress to the deplorable conditions brought about by the wholesale shipment of thoroughbred horses out of this country, as a result of the enactment of anti-racing legislation in various states of the Union, a prominent Kentucky breeder of a few years ago, who has practically been forced out of breeding by reason of the restrictive laws against racing, said: "Much of the harm that has already been done to the thoroughbred industry, by reason of the persecution of racing, cannot be overcome for many years, and with a continuance of this persecution it will mean the stamping out of the breed altogether. As a matter of fact, I am surprised that there are as many thoroughbreds left in the country. They are left for the reason that some breeders had something more than the market in view. They are men who could afford to breed horses; men who sent yearlings to the sales ring, but who were not dependent upon the prices realized for the upkeep of their establishments.

"With no racing it was natural that the bottom should fall out of the market and when stallings of who could alord to breed morses, linel who sen's pearlings to the saies ring, but who were not dependent upon the prices realized for the upkeep of their establishments.

"With no racing it was natural that the bottom should fall out of the market, and when stallions of the most fashionable lineage are sold for five dolars and mares of irreproachable pedigree are bought to be used for the breeding of mules, it is time for breeders to quit, unless they breed for their own amusement.

"I sent my mares to England, and while I did not realize what I would in America when racing was idourishing, the prices were incomparably better than would have been had in any market here.

"The havoc that has been wrought by those who would for all time break down racing is more in the loss of the marcs than in the loss of the stallions. The sires can be replaced, but the matrons are gone, and hundreds of them are distributed to the four corners until it would be impossible even to trace them if it was desired to have them back where they properly belong.

"The only reason for the present condition is the restriction against racing, and General Wood has the right idea when he blames this senseless crusade as the cause of the serious crippling of what should be one of the greatest of American Industries.

"No country in the world has the same facilities for the breeding and development of the thoroughbred and the world. Its broad, rich grazing grounds, its climate and grain, make it the natural home of the thoroughbred, and had racing continued to prosper it surely would have taken that place within a few world, see the gelebiliteting of many of these his world, see the gelebiliteting of many of these his climate and grain, make it the natural home of the thoroughbred, and had racing continued to prosper is surely would have taken that place within a few years.

"Should racing return, under proper safeguards, it would see the rehabilitation of many of these big Kentucky farms that have been put to other uses, and the breeding of the thoroughbred would come back. It would take some time to overcome the ravages of the enemies to the horse, but he still has many loyal friends and friends who are willing to invest fortunes in the betterment of the breed—but the only salvation is the return of the sport."

Major-General Wood's report to Congress included the following language:

"As a result of recent state legislation affecting racing there has been and still continues to be a very extensive shipment out of this country of the very best thoroughbred blood. These shipments in some cases consist of entire studs of thoroughbreds and are assuming the magnitude of a national calamity so far as the effect on the breeding of thoroughbred stock in this country is concerned.

"This matter touches the mounted service in such a vital way that the War Department cannot be indifferent to it. While other countries are spending immense sums of money in imported thoroughbred stock many of our most renowned breeders have entirely sold out, shipped abroad or are gradually reducing their establishments.

"The loss of thoroughbred stock to such an extent as is now taking place threatens the further improvements in the American horse and will gradually reduce the source from which the army can secure a proper mount. This matter is one of such importance that it is thought the attention of Congress should be invited to it."

It is hoped that this report from the chief of staff will awaken lawmakers to a sense of their responsibility for the conditions that prevail. From the time of the first thoroughbred the race course has been the only testing ground. Without racing there is no test. General Wood has been using every endeavor to save t hood won over $400,000 and the skill on the part of trainer Rowe or the jockeys who rode them in their races would have availed nothing if they had not possessed the speed and stamina coupled with a constitution that made them stand the ordeals of the race track.

"The best strains of blood to be found in England and America were blended with the cunning of an alchemist in the Castleton product, and the results achieved amazed the turf world and caused all but the closest students of the science of breeding to despair. It was openly predicted a decade ago that if racing continued long enough, the Keene horses would win the bulk of the rich prizes offered by the various racing associations, and this state of affairs practically existed when the anti-racing legislation came into effect. Many will argue that the lavish expenditure of money for English mares of demonstrated families was responsible for the success of Castleton-Bred horses, but if there hadn't been a proper comprehension of the merits of the various blood lines behind the money to dictate the selections, millions would not have secured the results at Castleton year after year.

"It is a calannity, in the opinion of students of the horse, that Castleton should be abandoned as a breeding stud, not because the new owner will not rear trotters of a type that has made America famous the world over, the trotting horse being truly characteristic of this country, but because so much has been done for the horse family in general by the thoughtful, painstaking student who will now return to Virginia and perhaps give his attention to some other pursuit than horse breeding in the declining days of a busy career.

"No experienced student of horse breeding will deny that the thoroughbred is the horse par excellence when it comes to the betterment of any type of herse. His blood is essential if improvement along the lines of courage, beauty, stamina and bone is to be the goal; and even devotees of the trotting horse are divided unequally when it comes to the thoro

The fact that the trotter will be reared in the docks which once only knew the thoroughbred, is going to save the day for the horse interests the United States, useful horse as the trotter is perfect in his own sphere. If the government to have the type of horse necessary for its alry and artillery, the thoroughbred horse is its realization.

is to have the type of horse necessary for its cavalry and artillery, the thoroughbred horse is its only salvation.

"The nation is face to face with a serious problem. Many of the best of the stallions that were the pride of the United States are being sold to go abroad, and if some of those who still own good examples of the blooded horse do not follow the example of August Beimont and donate horses to the governmental stud, there will be a situation to be dealt with at a later day.

"There was a practical illustration of the value of thoroughbred blood at the recent National Horse Show in New York, when Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, won in two classes with a brown gelding named Hydro. The competitions were for heavyweight hunters and the classes contained some strong material. This gelding Hydro is by Rillette, a thoroughbred son of Riley, by Longfellow, a horse that Edward Corrigan raced all over the country more than twenty years ago. His mother was a small mare, not 15.2 hands high, and of uncertain breeding. She looked as though she might have been by a trotting horse. Her son Hydro, by the thoroughbred Rillette, is seventeen hands high, or very near it, has the splendid conformation essential in a hunter, sloping shoulders, strong, short back and tremendous quarters to propel him safely over his fences. His hone is enormous, more than nine inches below the knee, while his length of rein is most unusual. A well-poised, shapely head saves him from even the suspicion of coarseness. Where did not the sire's sire Edward is by the American-bred Tupelo, a son of the English sire Esher, imported to Kentucky many years ago. Sir Edward won the championship in his class at the great international Olympic show in London and was again adjudged the champion at the recent show in Madison Square Garden.

"He is over sixteen hands high, weighs 1,220 pounds and was pronounced by Major Allen of the

at the recent National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden shows the necessity that exists for better horses.

Largely through the efforts of General Wood several throughbred sires have been secured for service at army posts, but they are still inadequate to meet the demands, and the dispersal of the big breeding tands leaves the country in a sorry way for horses.

As a result of the statement of General Wood that legislation hostile to horse racing in this country has hit at the efficiency of the cavalry department of the United States by causing the removal of important studs to European countries, another attempt will be made to have the New York Sun Cegislature repeal and to interested persons through the cirpling of the turf industry. At the present time more than all to interested persons through the eliphing of the turf industry. At the present time more than all to interested persons through the eliphing of the turf industry. At the present time more than all to interested persons through the eliphing of the turf industry. At the present time more than $11,000,000 worth of race course property is lying idde.

A high official of the Jockey Club said today that the campaign for the revival of racing will be carried on conservatively through the distribution of literature among the voters of the state.

The New York Sun, in commenting on the recent sale of the famous Castlenan Stud near Lexington, Ky, by James R. Keene to David M. Look of New York, who will breed trotting horses on the ground where some of the greatest of American thoroughbreds first saw the light, says that 'it is a sign of the greatest of American thoroughbred families of this country and England of the passing of the greatest of American thoroughbred families of this country and England of the passing of the greatest of American thoroughbred families of this country and England of the passing of the greatest of American thoroughbred families of this country and England of the passing of the greatest of American thorough the consensation

LARGE ATTENDANCE WITNESSES DECISION OF DECIDEDLY ORDINARY CARD.

Favorites and Second Choices Take the Purses-Ben Sand and Sea Swell the Disappointments of the Day-Jockeys' Fines Remitted.

Columbia, S. C., December 25.—Devoid of special feature, today's racing at the Fair Grounds was of decidedly ordinary caliber, although a really excelent attendance braved the inclement weather to witness the sport. The heavy track conditions gave the pronounced mud runners a chance and the short prices at which they were held seemed justified by the results. Two pronounced disappointments developed in Ben Sand, the medium for a betting coup in the opening race, and Sea Swell, recently acquired by E. K. Barker.

Horses with an outer position at the post and possessing early speed, had a decided advantage during the afternoon, due to their ability to get the path, a strip of fairly good going near the outer path, a strip of fairly good going near the outer rail. The various contests were practically over by the time the stretch turn was reached, for the leader at this point monopolized the good going, with little prospect of displacement.

Favorites and second choices accounted for all the purses. Lydia Lee began proceedings by an impressive victory. The path aided Rubia Granda materially to her success, as Sabo Blend was best in the second. Haldeman, under good handling, won as his rider pleased in the third and Hopkins repeated in the following race with Elizabeth Harwood. Edith C. won the fifth after having been generously supported by the smart set and V. Powers held sway for the entire distance in the closing dash.

Jockeys C. Turner and Hopkins again carried of the riding honors, each landing two winners.

The handicap intended as a feature for today's racing did not fill, the only two horses nominated being Sager and Husky Lad.

Starter James Milton strolled into the jockey's room before the races this afternoon and, calling the boys together, told them that all unpaid fines inposed during the meeting were remitted. Jockeys under suspension were also restored to "ood standing, This was Mr. Milton's Christmas gift to the riders.

James Johnston, who came here at the conclusion of the Norfolk meeting, will leave for Juarez tomorrow. Mr. Johnston turned out a couple of horses at El Paso at the conclusion of the racing season in Mexico last spring, and he will take them over on his arrival at Juarez. He will race his stable on the Inter-Mountain circuit next season.

cendancy in some portions of the state owing to the larger prizes offered in racing competition and the fact that the breeder was enabled to turn his product into money so much more quickly because of two-year-old racing, the contests for light harness horses being of such a nature that mature development was demanded. Because of their superior earning capacity the thoroughbred, except in isolated cases, yielded a greater return at the auction block. The thoroughbred had the advantage of being marketable at one year old. Thus the cost of production and maintenance was all in their favor as against their diagonally gaited brothers and sisters. "With the crusade against racing and the closing of the great race tracks in New York. Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco and other points where large stakes and purses were offered; the earning capacity of the thoroughbred was restricted to the Canadian tracks, to Kentucky, Maryiand, Montana, Mexico and a few other places where meetings were held that elevated the quality neither of the men nor of the horses that took part in them. Those who liked the sport and who wanted to enjoy it without hindrance and whose pocketbooks could afford the outlay, shipped their horses to England or France; and there they will remain until some degree of rellef is secured. The meetings mentioned above will serve to keep a few persons breeding thoroughbreds, but the pursuit will be engaged in in only a limited way.

"In the rush to unload thoroughbreds, one breeder, I. H. Wheateroft, a millionaire of British Columbia, who had upward of 150 marcs and four or five stallions on a leased farm in Kentucky, chartered special trains to convey his entire stud to Vancouver, B. C. whence they were shipped to Australia less than a month ago to be sold in that country to the highest bidder. The Haggin horses were dispersed in England, but the bulk of his breeding operations is still conducted at the historic Nursery Stud, where the $125,000 English stallion, Rock Sand, holds court, Mr. Whit

BROWNLEIGH PARK STABLE FOR 1912.

New York, December 25.—The Brownleigh Park Stable, quartered for the winter months at Belmont Park in charge of J. Edward Nash, comprises seven horses. The only one of the lot that has raced is O'Keeffe, a two-year-old coit by McGee—Dorval. The rest are yearlings purchased at the Kentucky Sales at Lexington. When racing was at its height a few seasons back the horses of the Brownleigh Park Stable were important factors in races on the flat and through the steeplechase field. Grant Hugh Browne aimed to have one of the strongest stables in America. He was particularly interested in cross-country racing. Having watched the notable races of Great Britain that were run under conditions that demanded horses of high caliber, he concluded to make purchases abroad. To this end he imported John M. P., a big bay gelding, which had established a creditable record over hurdles and in the steeplechase field.

John M. P., a son of Brittanic—Guiding Star, carried the white and brown silks with distinction in the running of the Whitney Memorial and other cross-country events of importance. On several occasions John M. P., met and defeated the best horses in training. For a steeplechaser he possessed a wonderful burst of speed. In many a trial he covered a mile and a quarter in 2:07 with his weight up, Joseph E. Widener purchased the horse and shipped him to France, where he broke down. Sewell, They're Off, King Cobait, and Beckon were others raced successfully by Mr. Browne.

The coming two-year-oids are a choice lot. They were all foaled in the blue grass state and belong to families from which sprang noted racers. It is a rugged collection, and trainer Nash is confident that his charges will win their share of purses during the coming season.

WARNER GRISWELL, br. g. 7   102   By Ornus—Sarah (W. B. Evans).	Send ten dollars when you subscribe for this horse with the understanding that if the odds are better than 8 to 1, you will remit forty dollars additional; if the odds are less than 8 to 1, you owe me nothing further. It is not a question of winning, but of price. I make this stipulation in regard to price, because the trainer has assured me that the horse will be 10 to 1. Name of horse can be sent Tuesday, if preferred. I only want responsible people.
